Pioneer Farmer Meets Gov.-Gen.

A story in one of the Calgary papers last week, concerning the official opening and dedication of the Golden Age Club in Calgary, noted that one of the enthusiastic guests was 72 year old D. H. Galbraith, well known pioneer farmer of the Vulcan district now residing in Calgary.

Mr. Galbraith has recently returned from the east, where he and his wife were presented to the Governor-General at the opening of Grimley Hall in Ottawa, Blind for the past twenty years, Mr. Galbraith homesteaded in the Vulcan district in 1903.

He brought a message to Canadians from the governor-general, asking to be remembered to all his Calgary friends and assuring them he would be back, Stetson and all, at the next Stampede.

Milo Bonspiel Jan. 8 to 11

Posters are being printed this week announcing the holding of the Milo Curling Club's second annual bonspiel at Milo, Jan. 8 to 11.

There will be three competitions and seven draws each day for a total of $350.00 in prizes. Vulcan was well represented at the Milo bonspiel last year and several local rinks will probably enter this bonspiel.

Vulcan Wins Opening Hockey Game of Season

The first hockey game of the season at the local arena resulted in a 5-2 victory for the Vulcan Senior hockey club when they met the Macleod seniors in the opening game of the eight team Foothills Hockey League, played in the Vulcan arena on Tuesday night.

Due to mild weather the ice was soft and became badly cut up and got steadily worse as the game progressed with the result that team work and puck carrying became almost impossible.

The first period was fairly fast, play being about even and ended scoreless. One penalty was handed out to Macleod of Vulcan for tripping.

The second period opened with Polutnik scoring for Vulcan on a pass from Gorbous and Boutland just 37 seconds from the opening whistle. At 9:02 W. Parker scored for Macleod on a penalty shot. At 11:08 Dann scored a neat tally on a pass from W. Franks. Four penalties were awarded in quick succession, these being to Ralph Sullivan of Macleod at 11:30 for boarding, Polutnik of Vulcan at 13:56 for boarding, Macleod of Vulcan at 17:00 for butt-ending, and at 17:36 Ralph Sullivan of Macleod was penalized for cross checking. In the closing seconds of the period Gorbous scored on a pass from Jantzie to leave the score at 3 to 1.

In the third period Adams was handed a penalty at 2:57 for tripping and the first score was registered at 3:59 by Brown of Vulcan on a pass from Franks. At 6:05 Dann of Vulcan and Ralph Sullivan of Macleod were both penalized for roughing. Adams scored for Macleod at 13:52 on a pass from Butler. The final goal was scored at 16:03 by Yeomans on a double pass from M. Kehr and D. Larkins.

The Macleod line up was a much younger and lighter group of players who showed promise of a good fast brand of hockey on good ice. W. Giner, Macleod net minder was kept quite busy but turned in a stellar performance.

A crowd of about 200 were in attendance including a cheering section composed of high school girls. This appears to be indicative of a much greater interest being taken in hockey here this winter than for several seasons past and is indeed gratifying to club officials who have the financial end to worry about as well as to the players who always do better in front of a crowd.

Referees Jack Craig of Macleod and G. Seaman of Vulcan did a fine job.

MACLEOD: W. Grier, goal; Roy Sullivan, B. Butler and W. Parker, defence, and R. Hart, J. Adams, K. Hart, L. Hatton, P. Gazley and Ralph O'Sullivan, forwards.

VULCAN: D. Sproule, goal; C. Budd, G. Brown, B. Dann, D. Jantzie and R. J. Marshall, defence and M. Kehr, G. Gorbous, H. Boutland, W. Franks, C. Yeomans, D. Larkins, A. Polutnik, L. Maclean, and J. G. Lucas, forwards.

Santa Claus to Visit Vulcan

Annual Free Christmas Show For Children On Saturday

Hundreds of children from Vulcan and district will be entertained at the Theatre on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 16, when the annual Christmas treat for town and district children is presented.

Sponsored jointly by Vulcan Lodge No. 121, B.P.O. Elks, Vulcan Branch No. 21 of the Canadian Legion, and the Vulcan Lions Club, this annual Christmas treat will feature a theatre program specially chosen for children with the feature attraction being "Bill and Co.", a technicolor production featuring George Burton's birds, plus a musical western and a technicolor cartoon.

In order that all the children may see the films, there will be two showings—at 2:30 p.m. and 4:00 p.m. At the intermission between the two shows Santa Claus will visit the theatre to distribute treats to all the children.

All children from the town and outlying districts are invited to be the guests of the Elks, Legion and Lions on Saturday, for this annual Christmas treat.

Hockey Receiving Good Support

The initial appearance of the Vulcan Senior team when they defeated Macleod Tuesday night, in the Foothills League fixture by a 5-2 score, substantiated earlier reports that Vulcan has a strong line-up for the coming season. Although ice conditions were so bad that team work was nearly impossible, there were several flashy plays which showed that fans can expect some snappy, fast hockey featuring good combination and play making during the coming months.

The team, fifteen strong, as per Tuesday night's line-up, was composed of experienced players who are well above average in size and height; and according to the Vulcan Club officials have playing ability in proportion. It is also hinted that the club may have a dark horse or two in reserve yet.

The team will play a game at home and a game away each week with the next game to be played at Claresholm on Friday night. Practices are held as often as possible and players have all turned out to every practice held so far.

Officials of the Athletic and Cultural association, which organization is sponsoring the club, expressed gratification at the crowd in attendance at the opening game and hope that fans will turn out in ever increasing numbers as the season progresses.

Some discussion is reported from the members of the curling club who are considering suspending the late draw on home town hockey nights. Such co-operation would be most helpful to the club.

There are eight teams in the Foothills Senior hockey league this year, these being Blackie, Nanton, Vulcan, Staveland, Claresholm, Macleod, Pincher Creek and Okotoks.

At the end of the season, after each team has met every other team in home and home games, the top four teams will play off.

Frank's Cafe Changes Hands

Frank's Cafe, operated by Charlie Leong and his three partners, changed hands this week and is closed for stock-taking and alterations. The purchasers are James Leong, Quon Hee and Leong Soon, all of Lethbridge.

The cafe will reopen for business on Thursday, Dec. 21, under the new name of Royal Cafe and the new proprietors will welcome the patronage of both old and new customers.

Most prolific source of food for fish in Canada's streams is near the water bottom, not on the surface.

Church of Christ Groups Meet

The Keystone Class and W.M.S. of the Church of Christ held their annual Christmas meeting in the church library on Thursday, Dec. 7. Mrs. Deans presided at the business meeting, at which $50.00 was voted to be sent for mission work.

Mrs. Gordon Gardiner presented musical selections and led in the singing of Christmas carols. 25 members and friends then surrounded the Christmas tree and exchanged gifts, after which lunch was served. Mrs. Hansell closed the meeting with prayer.

Trade Board Entertains Graveling Bee Workers

Over 150 were present at the Vulcan District Board of Trade quarterly luncheon, held at the I.O.O.F. hall Wednesday, Dec. 13, in the form of a complimentary dinner tendered all those who participated in the recent graveling bee.

Board of Trade President Ross Walker presided and the guest speaker was E. F. Bouchat of the Department of Industries and Labour.

The Reid Hill Women's Institute catered the delicious turkey dinner and the tables were appropriately decorated with Christmas centrepieces.

Immediately following the dinner a delegation of three—Lundy Findlay, A. G. Scott and A. J. Miller—was appointed to attend the "Good Roads" meeting being held in Lethbridge that afternoon and to represent this district at the meeting with instructions to boost for the hard-surfacing of Highway No. 23.

President Ross Walker extended the thanks of the Board of Trade to all those who contributed to the success of the graveling bee through labor, use of trucks and donations of money. Mayor W. D. Allan added the thanks and appreciation of the Town, stating that such community projects were only made possible by the wonderful spirit of co-operation existing between town and country residents.

Board of Trade activities during the past year were covered briefly by President Walker.

The business part of the meeting saw the unanimous passing of a resolution asking the Provincial Department of Public Works to hard surface No. 23 highway from Monarch to High River via Vulcan.

Another resolution which received unanimous support directed the Board of Trade to make every effort to secure natural gas service for the town of Vulcan.

A resolution approving the County Act was introduced. At the suggestion of the chairman, D. D. McQueen, secretary of the M. D. of Vulcan, spoke briefly on this subject. Mr. McQueen stated that the proposed Vulcan County would consist of 49 townships as compared to the 22 townships presently included in the M. D. of Vulcan. The object of forming a county, he said, was to place the administration of municipal services, health services (hospitals) and education under one central elected body. Those present showed a keen interest in this subject and several questions were asked.

E. G. Hansell, M.P., expressed his admiration of the co-operative spirit shown in this community, stating that "no community will advance where there is a lack of co-operation between town and country."

He spoke briefly on the County Act, emphasizing that it was proposed to institute it on a trial basis—if ratepayers were not satisfied with the county form of local government they could revert to the former system when the plebiscite was held at the end of four years. "The only way to know whether or not you will like it is to try it," was Mr. Hansell's opinion.

The resolution approving the County Act was carried by a small majority, with only a relatively small number of those present voting.

E. F. Bouchat, whose job, as he put it, is enforcement of codes and regulations of the Department of Industries and Labour, proved to be a forceful and interesting speaker. Although of particular interest to merchants and licensed trades, his short talk was followed closely by all those present as he gave instances of unfair trade practices and other problems of his department.

Thigh Hill W.I. Presentations

The Christmas meeting of the Thigh Hill W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. O. B. Roe, in Vulcan, with 22 members in attendance.

Roll Call was answered by "What I Have Learned from Being a W.I. Member."

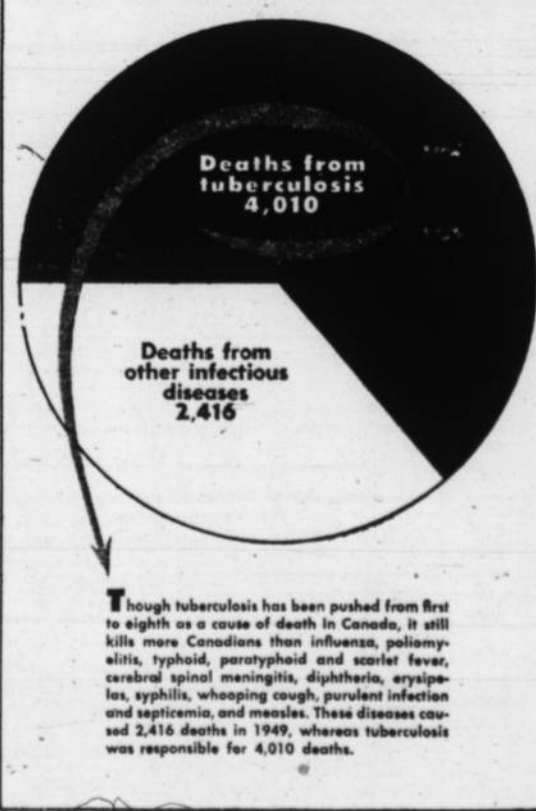

Business matters dealt with were light as the meeting took the form of a Yuletide social afternoon, rather than a more formal session. A Christmas Pie was opened and each member received a small remembrance from a sister member. Later a jolly half hour was spent in each one trying to identify her Sunshine Friend for the past year, with Mrs. Pat Roe winning a prize for the only correct guess. Draws were then made for new friends for the coming year.

Presentations of W.I. spoons were made to a Past President and Past Secretary, Mrs. Earl and Mrs. Roy Deal respectively; to the retiring president, Mrs. E. Erickson, and Mrs. L. Orchard. Another past secretary received a W.I. pin in appreciation of her work on the programs Mrs. Boyd McKay was also presented with a small gift.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. E. Roebuck.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess assisted by the ladies present.

TB - Attacked but not Conquered

Though tuberculosis has been pushed from first to eighth as a cause of death in Canada, it still kills more Canadians than influenza, poliomyelitis, typhoid, paratyphoid and scarlet fever, cerebral spinal meningitis, diphtheria, erysipelas, syphilis, whooping cough, purulent infection and septicemia, and measles. These diseases caused 2,416 deaths in 1949, whereas tuberculosis was responsible for 4,010 deaths.

FACTS AND FIGURES

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported that at September 1st, the official cost of living index was 169.8, an increase of 1.3 points since August 1st, and a new, all-time record.

With all this going on, Canadians faced up to mounting bills in an unusual sort of way. During August, they reduced their consumption of cigarettes and beer. Almost like British austerity and all that, but it really wasn't. They simply fobbed off the whole thing with a gesture of near-Gallic insouciance and increased their consumption of cigars! At the same time, the production of liquor showed a marked increase.

August releases of cigarettes totalled 1,384,000, 000 compared with 1,516,000,000 in August, 1949. Cigar releases were 16,500,000 compared with 15,400,000. Beer fell to 632,000 barrels from 782,000 in August 1949. Production of new spirits increased to 1,720,000 proof gallons from 1,320,000.

Comment here is really superfluous, but these figures would indicate that, despite record living costs, Canadians don't seem to be denying themselves to any marked degree.

AGRICULTURAL HALL OF FAME

We risk the fear of nostalgia hitting the readers of this column this week. The selection of the first five Hall of Fame farmers for Alberta includes two men who we knew at least casually. Henry Wise Wood, the man who organized the farm movement which ventured into politics, but who himself refrained from political leadership, was a casual acquaintance long to be remembered: He never tried to be anything but a progressive farmer. Then there is Charlie Noble. Acquaintance here was very casual, though we lived relatively close to him for many years. Still alive, he is definitely the scientific type. Big business tried to tie in with him, but with disastrous results. If ever the title of a popular song fitted one particular individual it is that one: "Anything You Can Do I Can Do Better". And C. S. Noble could do it on a big scale. Year after year we have driven by his farm of two to three thousand acres to see his yields running anything from ten to fifteen bushels higher than the average around about him. Any man who can consistently do this deserves a niche in the hall of fame. We'd like to tell you of another man who might be considered as a candidate for this Hall of Fame. He was a one-armed Frenchman by the name of Nick Taitinger. We believe he pioneered international grain championships in Alberta by copping off the barley crown at Chicago way back in 1908. Nick could do more with one arm than most people do with two arms. He had his ups and downs but was consistently a good farmer. When young healthy chaps come round begging, using an amputation for excuse to live upon their fellowmen, we think of Nick. He was a good friend of ours and always held out that these grain competitions were more or less endurance tests on the part of those who picked over the seed by hand before the grain was sent to the big expositions for judging. His theory was upheld last year at Toronto. An orchard woman from up near Creston had won the wheat championship. She was not a wheat farmer. She merely grew a few rows of wheat between her fruit trees to keep down the weeds. The shade from the trees helped to give a prize winning blush to her wheat. Many authorities on grain would like to see championships won from actual field crop competitions, where the grain is out and stooked and cured out in the sun.—Camrose Canadian.

BUILDING COSTS

The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada has issued an official bulletin which states that workmen's wages are not the real cause of high home-building costs. It says that the wage costs of building a five-room house in Calgary, as at last June, totalled $2,241.86 for a structure selling from $9,000 to $12,000.

The bulletin suggests that mortgage loan costs are too heavy. It says that a $5,000 loan at 5 per cent for 20 years, doubles itself. That expenditure on a house would thus cost double.

The argument as to the principal reasons for increased costs in house building deserves examination. The figure given by the labor congress looks low, but must be accepted. There are other labor costs, however, namely the wages in the lumbering industry, in railway transportation, in factories producing metal-ware, in planing mills, and so on.

The labor congress might show a demonstration of low-cost home building. It would provide the labor and use some of its reserve funds to furnish the capital. An actual demonstration would be much more convincing than a statistical argument.

Soil Drifting In Winter and Early Spring

(Experimental Station News)
Much of the soil drifting experienced on the prairies occurs in the winter or early spring. Winter drifting may be very severe in areas where the snow blows off. All localities may be subject to drifting as soon as the ground becomes bare in the spring.

Of course the proper time to prevent this is during the summer-fallowing operations in the summer. Where care has been taken to leave a good trash cover, there is little to worry about, but if the ground is bare, something may have to be done if drifting is to be prevented.

Repeatedly we find it necessary to state that winter drifting can be stopped although the ground is frozen. The best method that the Lethbridge Experimental Station has found is to list the frozen ground with a one-way lister. A one-way is converted into a lister by removing all but every fourth pan. Special attention must be given to proper hitch adjustments when using a one-way converted into a lister. If the hitch is well adjustable, a satisfactory operation can be done and quite severe drifting stopped. If open windy weather continues for a long period, it may be necessary to list the frozen ground a second time but usually one listing will carry the field through the winter. Winter listing has been especially useful in stopping the drifting of sugar beet and potato lands in the irrigation districts as well as on dry land and summer-fallows.

Fields that drifted at all during the fall are quite sure to drift again in the winter if the ground becomes bare and also in the spring. Such fields will present a problem before and at seeding time as well as after seeding unless definite control measures are used. Mouldboard plowing immediately ahead of the drill has been used effectively by many farmers to stabilize fields that have been drifting. If plowing is done, it must be deep enough to cover the loose drifting soil or it may not be effective. If mouldboard plowing is not feasible, a fairly deep cultivating immediately ahead of the drill may bring up lumps enough to protect the soil. This, however, is by no means as safe as the mouldboard plowing before drilling. If only a few spots have started to drift, it may be advisable to plow or list these danger areas or cover them with straw or manure.

A number of fields were drifting during the fall and these are quite sure to give trouble in the winter or spring. The wise farmer will anticipate this and act accordingly.

Motorists Are Warned Of Carbon Monoxide

At this time of the year, there is a deadly menace to motorists. This is carbon monoxide, a treacherous poison gas. Only recently, two young persons were found dead in their car in Edmonton, victims of the deadliest of the many chemicals which come from the motor of an automobile.

Carbon monoxide is colorless, odorless and tasteless and cannot be detected by the senses. In slight quantities it may cause headache, drowsiness, dizziness or nausea.

The danger is much greater than is generally supposed. In a recent investigation, one out of every 20 cars picked at random and tested with instruments contained sufficient carbon monoxide in the passenger compartment to impair driving judgment seriously enough to cause accidents.

Officials of the Alberta Motor Association, in sounding a warning of this deadly poisonous gas, suggest these simple rules:

1. Never have your car motor running while doors of garage are closed.
2. Never have windows of car completely closed.
3. Have a regular inspection of the exhaust system and the "seal" between the body of the car and the engine section, to discover any leak.
4. Warn all members of your family, especially in winter, of this danger.

DRIVERS ARE WARNED OF NIGHT TRAFFIC HAZARDS

Extreme care in night driving to avoid accidents is urged by officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

Statistics show that in relation to the number of cars on the road, there are more accidents between dusk and dawn.

Unlike animals, motorists cannot see in the dark and should not "overdrive" car headlights.

Even if your headlights are in good condition, there will be times when you will be unable to see clearly more than 100 feet ahead.

A car with good brakes traveling at 40 miles an hour cannot be stopped in less than 115 feet under ideal conditions. This is too late to avert a crash.

If your car is skidding, don't jam on the brake. Turn the steering wheel in the same direction as the rear of the car is skidding and step on the gas. Don't throw out your clutch. For example, if the rear end starts to skid toward the curb, immediately steer the car toward the curb.

One large insurance company, which has more claims in winter than in the height of the summer traffic, found that in every instance the chief contributing cause was "going too fast for such a road," though the drivers said it was "icy road conditions."

Germinating Seed At Home

(By H. G. L. Strange)

Tests which have been made indicate that because of frost damage a great deal of the seed of wheat, oats and barley, particularly of oats and barley, is germinating so low it will not be fit to sow. The Dominion Plant Products Laboratories in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, will test a sample of six pounds of seed for germination for 75 cents. Farmers, however, can easily test their seed at home. There are several methods. Perhaps the best is to make an open wooden box, 10 by 12 inches and 3 inches deep. Bore several half inch holes in the bottom for drainage. Fill the box with good soil. Plant one hundred seeds about half an inch deep. Water every day and place the box in a warm place—but not too hot—between 65 and 85 degrees. Count the sprouts at the end of ten days. If the germination is 85 per cent or better the seed is good. If the germinated sprouts are less than this then more seed to the acre should be sown in the future. The seed germinates 60 per cent or lower the seed should not be used and better seed should be secured.

Forgotten anything? It isn't too late to pay for your Christmas Seals. Do it today, and help out your local Tuberculosis Association.

Adjusting Agriculture To Changing Markets

Canadian agriculture faces a major problem today in adjustment to changing market conditions. The current issue of the Canadian Bank of Commerce Monthly Commercial Letter, from 1940 to 1949 markets and prices were fairly well assured. Developing dollar shortages, however, led the sterling area to restrict imports from dollar countries in 1949 and 1950. The United Kingdom, one of the largest markets for Canada's agricultural produce, narrowed imports to bacon, cheese eggs and wheat last year and further reduced them this year. A recession in Canadian agricultural prices set in as a result; prices declined until January 1950 but since then the trend has reversed and prices are now about at 1948 levels.

In the process of adjustment certain alternative courses of action were open to the farming segment of Canada's economy. One of these, reduced production, requires time to become effective, but has been achieved this year to some extent by reducing certain acreages. Growing conditions, however, frequently offset or magnify the effect of acreage adjustments. Thus, in 1950 a slight shift in acreage from wheat to coarse grains, due to a feed shortage following the 1949 harvest, resulted in a substantially increased supply of feed grains as severe August frosts not only reduced the wheat crop to a point well below earlier expectations but so lowered the grade of a very large part that it can only be used as feed. The coarse grain crops which were not so hard hit together with this feed wheat, will, therefore, provide the largest feed grain supply since 1944.

The expansion of other markets was a second alternative. But for this to be effective, prices of Canadian agricultural products must be kept at competitive levels. The active demand in the United States made it possible to expand markets there. Cattle and dressed meat formed a substantial part of the increase, and apple shipments to that country now exceed those to the United Kingdom. In the first eight months of 1950 agricultural exports to the United States were about $56 million above those for the same period last year. A decline in exports to the United Kingdom and other countries, however, resulted in a drop in total exports of agricultural produce of $57 million.

Domestic consumption has absorbed increased supplies of certain commodities, but per capita use of others, such as eggs, cheese, and meat, has declined from levels reached during the war due to high prices at the consumer level.

Government aid has been extended to agriculture through a price-support program and through measures to facilitate the marketing of Canadian farm produce.

With The District Agriculturist

Hugh Michael

The plant disease commonly known as Ergot is caused by a fungus, which most frequently attacks rye, and the grasses, wild barley, timothy, brome, slender, wheat grass, couch grass, and some of the other native grasses. Wheat or barley may also be affected, but it very rarely occurs in oats. No suitable variety of rye or wheat has yet been found that is resistant to the Ergot disease.

The spores of the fungus parasite Ergot, enter the floral parts of the plant when these are open at blossom time, with the result that Ergot bodies develop instead of the kernels of grain.

Livestock producers should be aware of the dangers associated with the feeding of Ergot infested grains or roughages to farm animals. Cattle and horses are most susceptible to the injurious effects of Ergot.

Ergot poisoning has occurred in man in various countries where rye bread forms a prominent part of the diet. In Russia, it was observed, that rye flour containing 0.15 per cent of Ergot, was sufficient to produce Ergotism.

When feed containing Ergot is fed to livestock, it may cause abortions and the disease Ergotism. Many cases have been observed where a very small concentration of Ergot caused abortions. Ergotism is a serious disease and is marked in the early stages by irritation and pain in the extremities of the body, and later by a dry gangrene on mummification of tail, ears and perhaps feet. Ears and tails have been known to dry up and drop off. Grains or other feeds affected by Ergot are likely to possess somewhat reduced feeding value as well as being poisonous.

Ergot can be controlled by seeding disease-free seed and by rotating crops. It has also been found that broken Ergot bodies

D.V.A. Assistance To Rural Vets

If applications received by the Army Benevolent Fund can be taken as an indication, either veterans of World War II living in rural areas are more prosperous than their fellows in the cities or they do not have as much knowledge of assistance which is available to them through the fund.

Lt. General J. C. Murchie, Chairman of the Army Benevolent Fund thinks, perhaps the fact that applications from rural areas are not numerous may be a result of both factors but in a statement today made it quite clear that assistance from the fund is just as available to those in rural areas as to those located in the large centres of population.

"The Fund, was built up largely of Canteen profits and is available to all Army Veterans of World War II", General Murchie stated, "and we are most anxious that Army veterans in the rural areas take full advantage of the assistance which can be provided should they find themselves in circumstances where the Fund can help."

"When the Fund was instituted by Parliament in 1947 and the amount of roughly $9,000,000 was set aside from World War II profits and other sources it was stated it was to be spent for the benefit of World War II Army Veterans and their dependents. This, of course, means those veterans living in the rural areas as well as those living in the city."

General Murchie made it clear, however, that the Board has a responsibility to administer the

are usually dead at the end of the year, which would suggest the desirability of saving over enough seed rye from one year to another.

Fund in accordance with the Act of Parliament and only these cases can be helped which arise as the result of some unexpected contingency or unforeseen calamity. The usual cases of such difficulties are sickness, accident, death, fire, flood, windstorm, epidemic and temporarily dislocation of finances. The Fund cannot be used merely to provide a stopgap and there must be evidence that a grant will assist in providing a permanent solution. There must also be evidence that the applicant is deserving of assistance and that his financial difficulties are not a result of circumstances over which he had control.

"We have adopted this policy," General Murchie stated, "because this fund represents a type insurance for Army veterans who encountered calamity and we have a responsibility to all Army veterans to ensure that is properly protected. The deserving Army veteran will be given every assistance possible although we must, of course, be satisfied that this assistance cannot be provided for some other source."

In order to make sure that rural veterans are aware of the provisions of the Fund, the Board is planning to send speakers to rural areas while assistance of Branches of Veterans Organizations and other Fund agents operating in rural communities will be enlisted.

Complete information can be secured from any branch of Veterans Organizations, District offices in the Unemployment Insurance Commission, Settlement Supervisors of the Veterans Land Act, Provincial Welfare Services and Welfare Bureaus.

Personality of Southern Alberta's Agriculture

(Experimental Station Letter)
Once upon a time the writer of this letter learned a definition of personality: "Personality is the sum total of the individual's reaction to his environment and the reaction of the environment upon the individual."

Of course this academic jargon
was meant to apply to the ordinary human being but it strikes me
now that it might also be applied to other things, even to something as impersonal as agriculture. A successful agriculture like a successful personality demands harmony with its environment.

Taken in broad perspective the agriculture of Southern Alberta is not inharmonious. All of us have seen small areas or individual farms where the local operators are out of tune; no matter how vehemently they kick against the pricks, Mother Nature continues to turn a cold cheek toward them in the shape of an agricultural production with a warped personality. This correspondent was born into such a misfit situation on a sandy quarter section homestead east of Taber. However, the homesteaders learned and adjusted. Now it is well known that wheat production on these areas of sandy land and limited rainfall is impractical; today those well-meaning homesteaders have come into harmony with their environment by producing specialty crops under irrigation on such lands and use the unirrigated sand hills for grazing. Farms which were abandoned in the 1920's to gophers and antelope now are being taken up again since they will exhibit a complete change in personality
when the present extension of irrigation brings adequate moisture to their acres.

There are many other examples of profitable adjustment to the agricultural environment. The foothills farmer must smile in satisfaction as he surveys his summerfallow stabilized against soil drifting by cover crops; undoubtedly his smile will widen as he contemplates his cash return from the pasture rental of these cover crops to the livestock feeders. The rancher with his crested wheat-grass pastures on abandoned farm land and his stock-watering dams exhibits a husbandry with a pleasing personality. The truck gardener on the warm river flats near Medicine Hat is in the same class and so is the strawberry grower in Bonwell. Do we seed Marquis wheat in rust areas—not since we got Thatcher! Do we seed Thatcher in sawfly districts
—not since we got Rescue.

And so the list could be multiplied. Success in farming, as in most other pursuits including personality developments, depends upon proper adaptation to environment. It is the task of the agricultural scientists and the farmers to develop and use varieties and practices which will keep our agricultural ego at peace with itself.

As 1950 draws to a close we are inclined to feel that we are reasonably well adjusted. More than a million bags of sugar, many million bushels of wheat, and a "multimillion" pounds of beef in-

How a Donkey Became an Ass

Once upon a time a great Prophet addressed a herd of donkeys:
"What would a donkey require for a 3-day journey?"

"Six bundles of hay and three bags of dates," they replied.

"That soundeth like a fair
price, but I have for one of you a 3-day's journey and I cannot give six bundles of hay and three bags of dates. Who will go for less?"

Behold all stood forth. One would go for six bundles of hay and two bags of dates, another for three bundles of hay and one bag of dates. One especially long-eared donkey agreed to go for one bundle of hay.

Spake the prophet: "Thou art a disgrace to thy herd and an ass.
Thou canst not live for three days on one bundle of hay, and much less undertake the journey and profit thereby."

"True", replied the ass, hanging his long ears in shame, "but I wanted to get the business."

And from that day to this price cutters have been known as "asses."

Wheat Payment

There is a little or no possibility of a final payment on the five-year United Kingdom and Canada wheat agreement which concluded July 31 this year being made until sometime in January, the Hon. C. D. Howe, federal minister of Trade and Commerce said
in Calgary recently.

The minister was in Calgary on a hurried trip from Ottawa and addressed two meetings on Monday, the Alberta Wheat Pool in the morning and the Farmers'
Union of Alberta in the afternoon.

Regarding the anticipated final wheat payment on which the Farmers' Union of Alberta propose to pass a resolution during their convention, which opened Monday in the Palliser, Mr. Howe said he had hoped the payment might have been available before Christmas. However, "we haven't our final returns in and won't likely have them until January and it takes about a month further to get the payments out," he said.

Mr. Howe said he had no idea

Would you like an opportunity to take part in a great life saving campaign? You can have one at Christmas time if you buy Christmas Seals. Seal sale money has saved many thousands of Canadians from tuberculosis, the disease that is the chief killer of youth.

Snakes have a sense of smell which they aid by sticking out their tongue.

A Canada wide survey shows transportation costs have little or no relation to increases in the cost of living at different points.

No money had been left in the office so there wasn't anything stolen. It is thought that money was the main object in the double break-in. The R.C.M.P. are investigating.
